About

DHL Nigeria operates as the Nigerian arm of DHL, the global logistics and express delivery leader, providing international and domestic courier, parcel, and freight services to businesses and individuals across the country. Through its integration with the wider DHL network, the company connects Nigerian customers to more than 220 countries and territories, supporting cross-border trade, e-commerce, and time-sensitive shipments.

In Nigeria, DHL's services focus on key commercial hubs such as Lagos, Abuja, and Port Harcourt, where demand for reliable international shipping, document delivery, and supply chain solutions is strongest. The company offers a range of products including express delivery, freight forwarding, and specialised logistics for sectors such as oil and gas, healthcare, manufacturing, and technology.

DHL Nigeria leverages global standards in tracking, customs clearance, and operational efficiency to provide predictable delivery times and transparent shipment visibility. This makes it a preferred partner for corporates, SMEs, and online sellers who prioritise reliability and speed over the lowest possible cost.

By combining international reach with local operational knowledge, DHL Nigeria continues to play a critical role in enabling Nigerian businesses to access global markets while offering consumers dependable access to international parcels and documents.
